Faced with a dream
I looked at myself

I wondered how or even why

it soon became me
and I, it

I lived it all
and it was reality

today was already yesterday

when it had passed it had hardly begun.

Christmas dance . . .

Jerry Banks, Betty Bassett, Joey Banks, and Cathy McCullough

Rex and Ruth Young celebrated their 30th anniversary.

a time to remember

Raul Bisbal and Nancy Nichols

Robin Lowe and Tammy Maier

Kathy Tsurumaki and Raymond Ip

Dale Rosenthal and Jimmy Scripps

Throughout the year there were many different faces to be encountered on the campus and different activities which set the tone of happiness for campus life.

"Hey, where you s'posed to be? Gotta note?" asked Mr. Pekich carrying out his daily duties as supervisor.

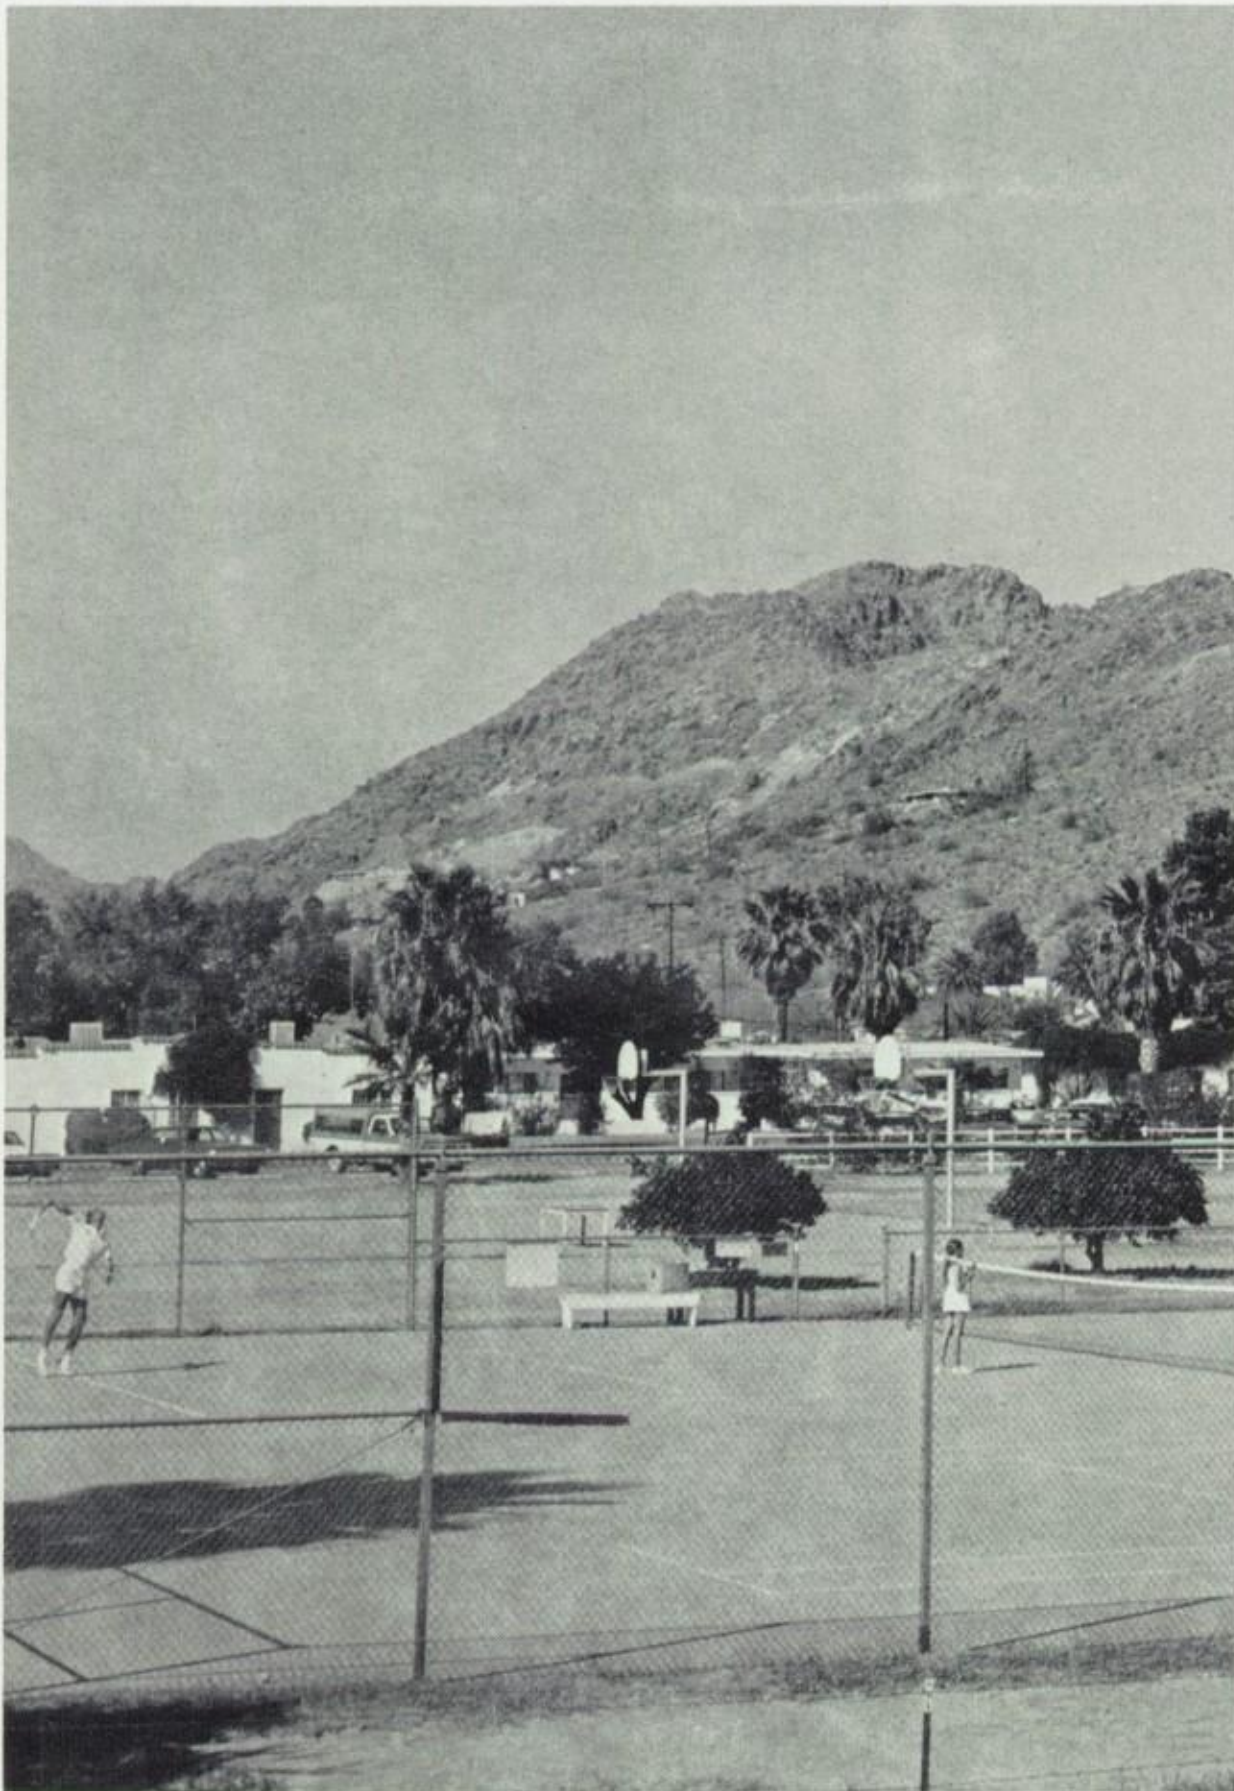

Judson, home away from home, was a happy life for Tomoko Shimamura from Japan.

Craig Morahan, Bunny of the Year, performed at the pep rally play preceding the Orme football game.

Campus memories captured

A single moment together were we,
Maybe only a brief expenditure of time,
But nonetheless an acquaintance was made,
An eternal friendship did we find.

JUDSON'S H

Homecoming Queen Isabelle Young reigned over day's festivities which included the Judson football game and dance.

MECOMING

Color Guard carried the state, national and school flags preceding the homecoming game and the crowning of the queen. They were Tom Neiley, Debbie Young, Laura Hardy, Patty Barnhouse, and Jack Peterson.

The many facets of Judson activities

Leaders team up

Looking back I see
People that were near to me
We went through changes in thinking trends;
And managed to make it through as friends.

Administration has successful year

The backbone of any successful organization is its administrative staff, a staff of well-organized, concerned, highly competent and skilled men and women, all working toward a common goal. At Judson there were no exceptions to this rule. Each member recognized the goal of making Judson a more highly respected and outstanding school than it already was.

Judson was a little world in itself, with the administration as the center of all activities. The staff duties ranged from keeping the internal affairs of the school running smoothly, to helping individual students with their schedules and personal life. It was through the co-ordinated efforts of these dedicated individuals that Judson was so successful.

Leaders meet challenges

Liaison Committee was created to promote a harmonious relationship between students and faculty.

Student council was the legislative body representing the entire high school student body. It consisted of eight students who had the important duty of making recommendations to the Standards Committee and school administration concerning student welfare.

Bottom: Shelly Pfeifer, Dorie Vlaten, Andy Kind, Hoss Peterson, Peter Murphy, Todd Sink. Second: Mrs. Vicki Glasso, Greg Skrivanek, Don Hunger, Jerry Keyes, Frank MacDonald, Tom Weekes, Miss Karen Brown, Ken Furtado.

Class Officers represented the interests of the class from which they were elected. Four officers were selected from each class by the largest number of votes; assignment to each office was determined by the relative votes for each candidate. They were responsible for all class activities during the school year.

John Morgan, Tim King, Betty Bassett, Tom Brearley were Senior Class Officers.

Revisions improve yearbook

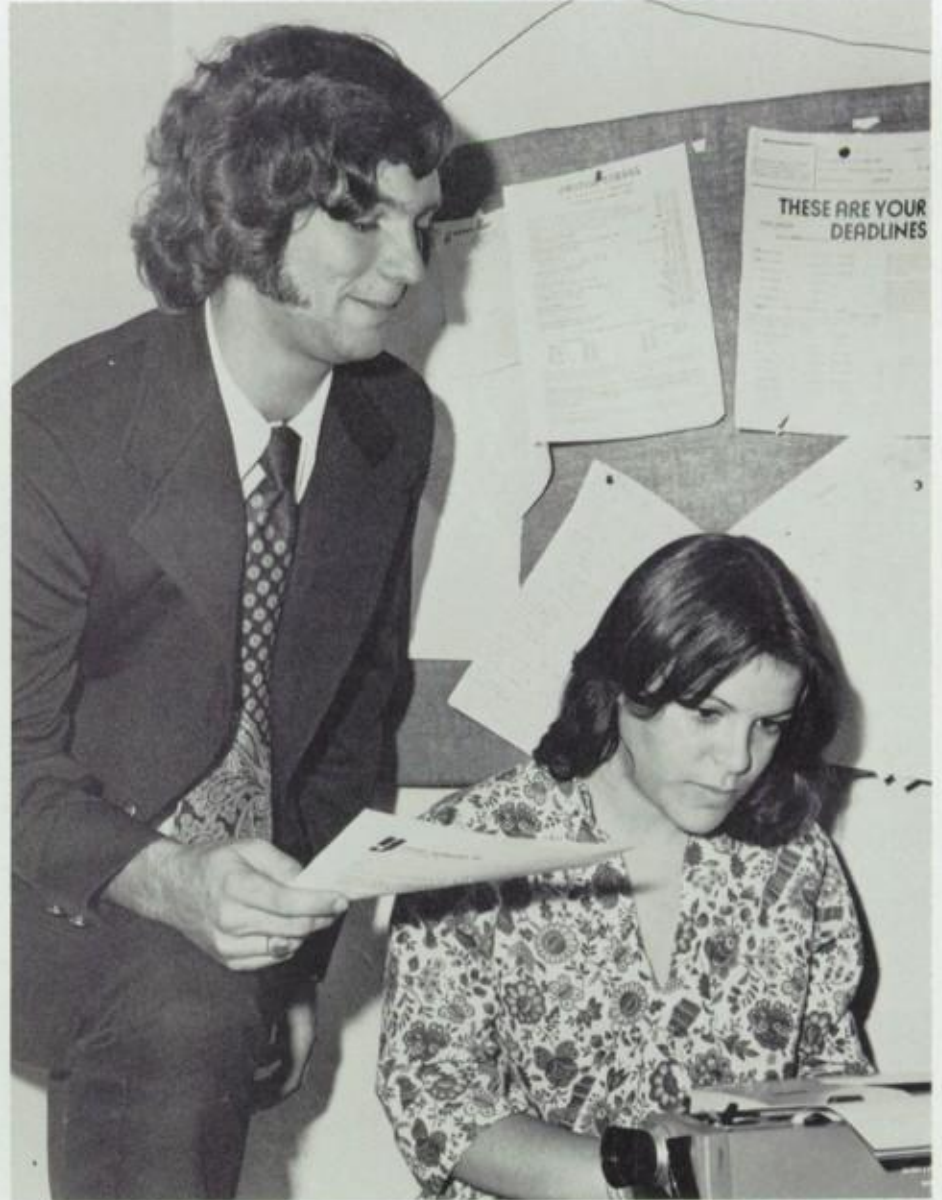

The Cactus staff spent time outside as well as inside the class, gathering pictures and combining copy to produce this year's yearbook. Their goal was to portray a record of the school year as well as learning basic journalism techniques. Dedicated work from the students made the Cactus more than just a yearbook.

Front row: Laurie Rockhold, Mrs. Faye Black, Melissa Fitzpatrick, Janet Bollmann, Beth Golden. Second row: Randy Lindquist, Tim King, Don Hunger, Tammy Wick, Denis DuBose.

Tammy Wick and Don Hunger discussed plans for the final deadline.

Randy Lindquist and Beth Golden speeded up the typing process.

Cougar staff reports year's events

Keeping pace with school activities, the Cougar newspaper sought and reported daily events and festivities every six weeks. Publishing the newspaper required the combined efforts of reporters, editors, typists, and artists.

With pencil and paper in hand they searched the campus for the latest news in sports, dances, and various school events.

Debbie Young, Veronica Martin, Lawrence McDonough, and Liz Coleman looked over one of the past issues.

Valedictorian

Randy Lindquist

Randy Lindquist was born in Albuquerque, New Mexico on June 1, 1958, but has lived for the past eight years in Saudi Arabia. He placed first in his class achieving one of the highest grade point averages ever made at Judson.

As well as maintaining top grades, Randy was an active participant in many sports. In bowling he scored 277, a record held by few bowlers. Last year he received the ASU Medallion of Merit Award which included a full year scholarship to ASU.

He was selected in his junior year to the National Honor Society and to Quill and Scroll in his senior year.

He plans to attend either Harvard or one of the Arizona Universities, majoring in pre-law.

Salutatorian

Emily Murphy

Miss Emily Ann Murphy was born on January 29, 1958 in Green Bay, Wisconsin. She moved to Scottsdale, Arizona in 1971 and has attended Judson the last four years.

Emily Ann was selected to the National Honor Society her junior year and was chosen to Quill and Scroll in her sophomore year. She was honored her senior year by being selected to "Who's Who in America High School Students."

Emily Ann not only participated in three National Art Shows but also had the distinction of receiving four firsts and two seconds in the painting category. She organized, designed and helped paint three large murals on the Judson Campus and is this year's recipient of the Judson School Senior Art Award. She also entered in her first international art show in Nice, France.

Emily Ann was accepted and plans to attend the Minneapolis School of Art and Design this September.

George Alrich Award

Peter Murphy was born on November 11, 1957 in Bogota, Colombia. In his three years at Judson, Peter has received Most Valuable Player award in soccer twice, and has been active in tennis and track.

Peter's willingness to lend a helping hand to other students on campus is represented by his position of vice-president of the Student Council.

George Alrich was an outstanding athlete and was respected and loved by all. He would have been a senior in the year 1963-1964, but he passed away on his family's ranch in the summer of 1963.

This award is presented to the outstanding senior boy and is donated by the Alrich family in memory of their son.

Liz Cumings was awarded the Arizona State University Medallion of Merit award. Liz will receive a full year scholarship to ASU.

Dorie Vlaten received the University of Arizona Outstanding Junior award for excellence in scholastics and citizenship. Dorie will receive a full year scholarship to U of A.

Verve and vim displayed

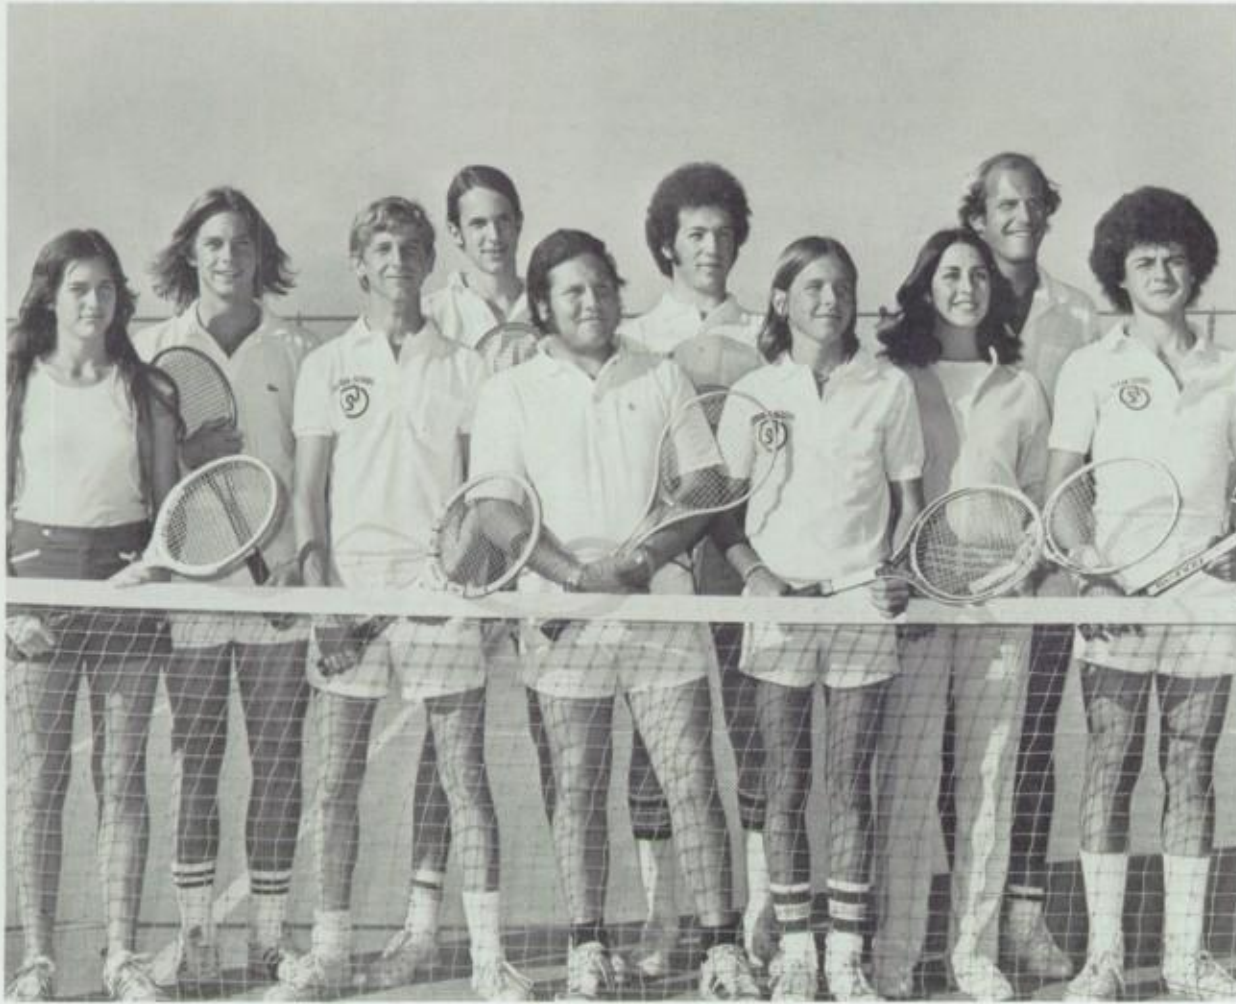

Slick chicks added to the excitement of the games by creating original cheers and routines. They were Emily Murphy; Julie Barker; Debbie Satell; Mrs. Billie Jo Donovan, director; Carol Holliday.

Cheerleaders kept up the spirit of the school both at pep rallies and games. Always present at the games, they cheered on Judson's football, basketball, volleyball and soccer teams.

Tennis is skill, agility

Judson's tennis team was composed of enthusiastic members under the instruction of Rob Hecht.

They practiced diligently to improve their game and exercised daily to keep in good physical condition.

Sally Young, Tim King, Peter Murphy, Chip Freeborn, Nino De La Mata, Gabriel Garza, Tyler Van Pelt, Tammy Wick, Rob Hecht instructor, Jesus Arriola.

Golfers practice form

Avid golfers, or just interested students found the golf team both relaxing and competitive. Matches were set up for players who wished to compete with students from other schools. Others just practiced their strokes and learned the basics instructed by Hank Wick. They practiced at Mountain Shadows Resort two or three times a week.

Pete Ricart, Randy Criswell, Hank Wick, instructor, Fred Slyfield, John Case, Greg Marks and Andy Kind.

Team's strategy proves successful

The success of the boys' basketball team reflected the hours of practice by all the members. John Colman coached his team through the playoffs for a chance at the state championship.

Soccer team was comprised of an international roster with students from Mexico, Columbia, Venezuela, Canada, Trinidad, Japan and Iran. They worked hard to win and ended up second in the state championship.

Raul Bisbal kicked the ball high and far down the field.

Soccer season is successful

Peter Murphy was determined to score a goal.

Shoulder to shoulder with opponent, Raul Bisbal dribbled down the field.

Steve Davis blocked a kick by member of the Scottsdale Christian team.

George Villalobos kicked a pass to teammate.

Track team improves

Track had a good turnout of interested students. Coached by Bob Pekich and Charlie Morton, the team improved its past records and had a successful season.

Girls' rapport makes team

Girls on the softball team devoted hard work and time to have a winning season. Mrs. Billie Jo Donovan coached the team and said, "The rapport of the girls made the team work together as friends."

Team practices skills

Over the season the girls' basketball team became experienced practicing both teamwork and skills. Their games were exciting events.

Standing: Mrs. Billie Jo Donovan, Liz Coleman, Wendy Rainey, Megan McAlister, Tomoko Shimamura, Laura Hardy, Rob Hecht. Seated: Patty Smith, Rita White, Sue Heffron, Robin and Roxanne Raymond, Robin Hendricks.

Rita White went in for a lay up as Tomoko Shimamura came in for the rebound in their game against San Pasqual.

Liz Coleman and Debbie Croysdill reached for the basketball as Sue Heffron awaited the pass anxiously.

Aspiring sharpshooters practice

Under the direction of Mr. Judson, marksmen learned the art of riflery. They met periodically to practice, and were supplied with .22 caliber rifles and ammunition.

John Case, Jesus Arriola, Robin Lowe, Mr. Judson, Raul Bisbal, Randy Criswell, Dave Otteman.

Students practiced their aims in sitting and prone positions.

Eric Pinion, Benji Rosenberg, Mr. Judson, Mike McCulley, Brien Lloyd.

Bowlers score high

Randy Lindquist, John Case, Mrs. Ruth Young, Brian Scharosch, Tammy Maier.

Judson bowling leagues provided an after school entertainment for interested students. Skill in their bowling produced many high games throughout the year. Trophies and patches were given out to the winners of the league at the end of the year.

During the bowling season Randy Lindquist set a new record for the men with a 277 game at Papago Lanes. Randy had a 661 series for his three game series. He earned this high game by making eleven out of twelve strikes in the game. He also went on to bowl in the state tournament held in Tucson.

Proud fathers attend banquet

Two very proud fathers at the sports banquet were Jim Roulston and Ernie Banks.

Mr. Roulston came from Saudi Arabia to present the trophy for "King Cougar" to his son Jim.

Mr. Banks was pleased about his son Joey's award for all-state.

Teams display strength

Liz Coleman dribbled the basketball in the game against San Pasqual.

David Doyne stretched for the basketball.

Joey Banks prepared to pass off to another teammate in the game with Seton.

Bill Talbert awaits the upcoming pass from his Judson teammate.

Happy is their day

Mr. and Mrs. Roti, parents of John, Robert, and Bill Browning hosted the lower grades to a trolley ride.

Windblown Carrie McIntyre and Allison DuBose hurried to class.

Kindergarten moppets had great fun on the playground jungle gym.

Younger children were happy to have a ride in the trolley.

Anyone can get involved

Robert Osterhout rang the dinner bell many times a day to call students to the dining room for their meals. The ringing of this bell was unique as Judson is one of the few schools that has a bell rung manually.

Kim Moore, Betty Bassett, Tom Brearly, and Tim King watched a girls' basketball game.

Mr. Wick and his twins relaxed, Alyssa on his knee, and Alexander tooting his saxophone.

Vaudeville comes to Judson

Judson's annual talent show provided the students with an outlet for their various talents. Students originated their own acts which included dancing, singing, playing musical instruments, or doing skits.

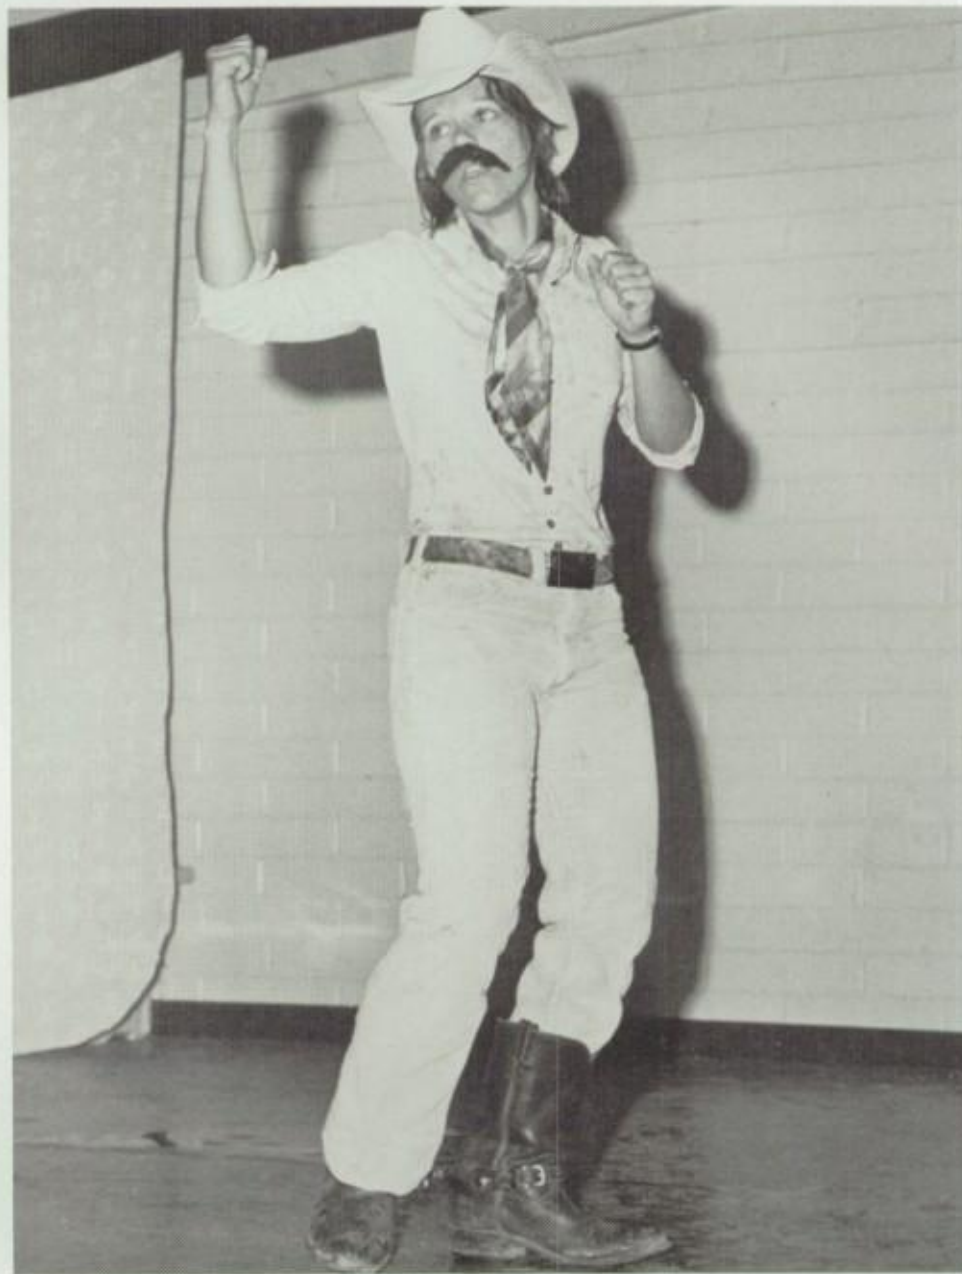

The show was hilariously received by the audience.

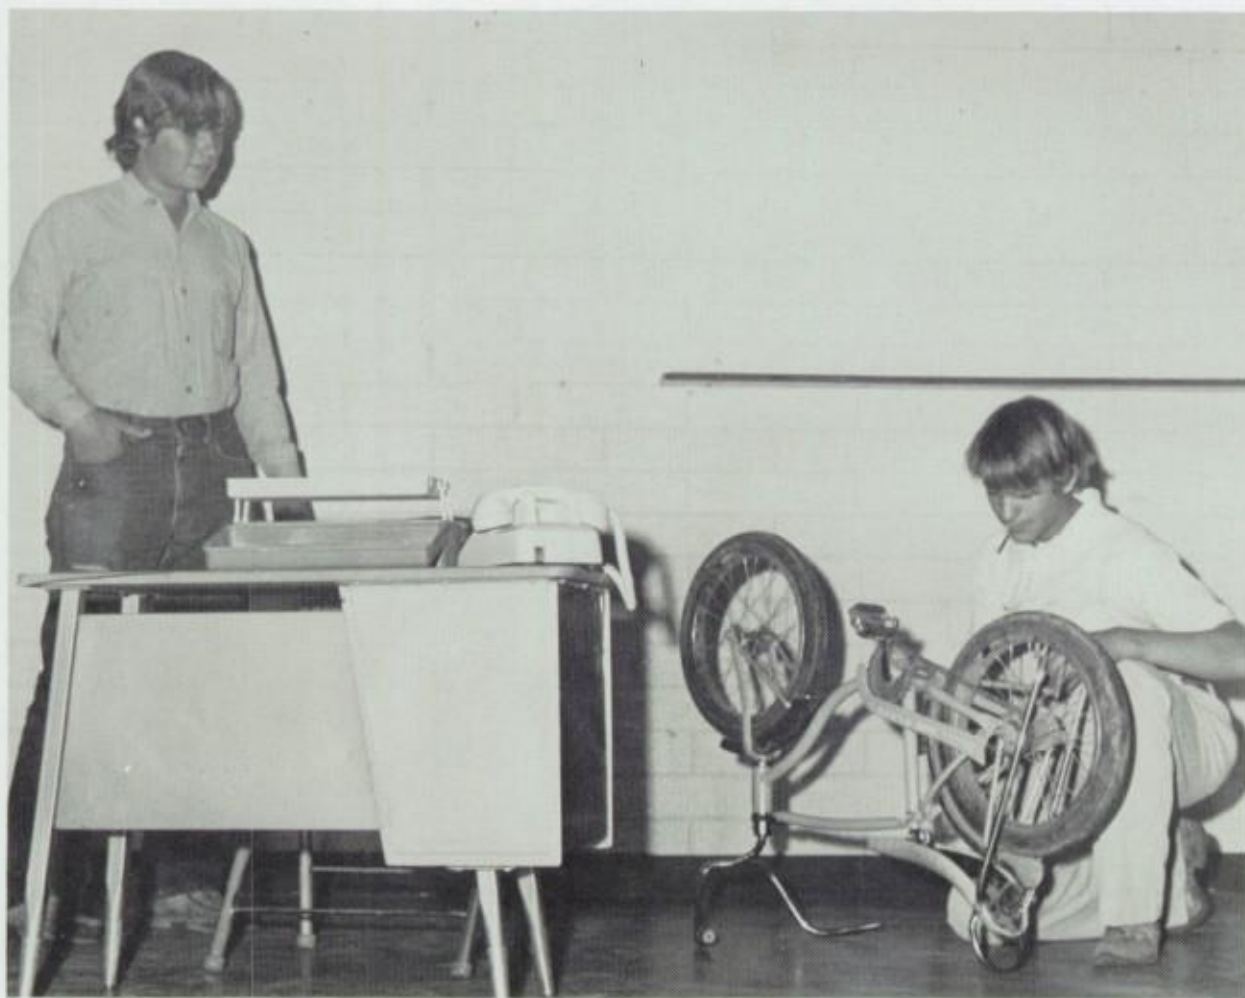

All participants joined in for a sing for the finale.

Jill Nielsen tap danced to "Roll Over Beethoven".

Karen Brown, Activities Director, imitated Glen Campbell singing "Rhinestone Cowboy".

Peter Holmes asked Tom Neiley (imitating Rex Young) for a raise.

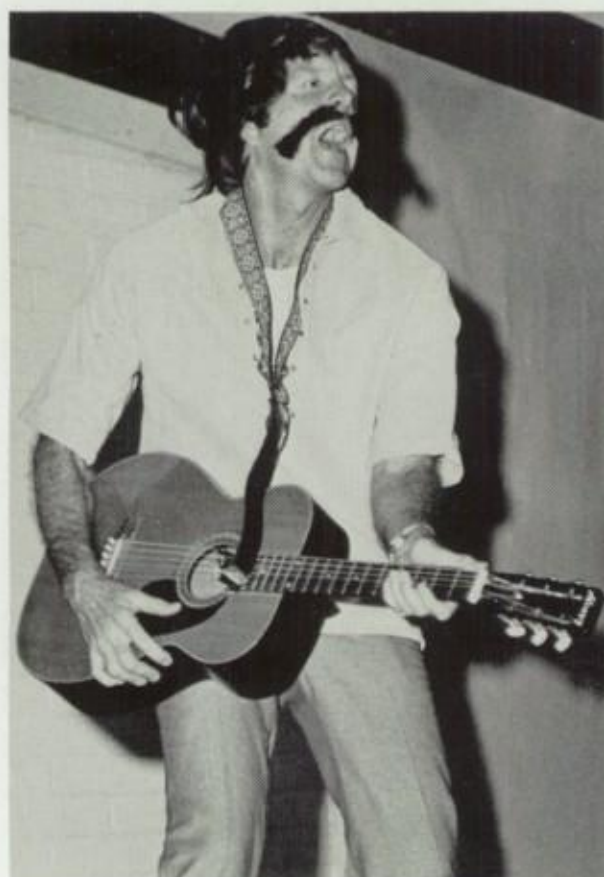

Jim Carpenter and Jim Mathys rehearsed for the show.

Jim Carpenter and Jim Mathys had it out in the saloon.

Faculty shows lighter side

The Faculty Review was an annual part of the Spring Arts' Festival. Doris Bale played the part of Sophie Tucker, and Headmaster Hugh Slattery portrayed the great "Elvis." The casts take parts that were often alien to their sedate and dignified everyday roles.

One of the chorus lines: Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Faye Black, Headmaster Hugh Slattery, Karen Brown and Mrs. Ruth Young. Mr. Slattery was awarded the best disc jockey button in this faculty review by his grateful cast.

Doris Bale, Peggy Smith, Sherley Ruby, Hugh Slattery, Faye Black, Carol Anderson, Mickey Bernard, Frank MacDonald, Patsy Lowry and Ron Goodman in the grand finale.

Curriculum is enriched

In the electronics course students learned the principles of AC and DC circuits, how to build common radio circuits, and the basic principles of trouble shooting.

Ceramics was another class added to the Judson curriculum. Instructed by Mrs. Patsy Lowry students worked with potters wheels creating various kinds of bowls, pots and sculptures.

Tom Weeks, Director, demonstrated the use of the Volt-ohmmeter to Bard Johnson and Tim Sink in the electronics course.

Mrs. Patsy Lowry gave Felicia Turrillas a few tips in the ceramics class.

Kim Greig worked on her project in Mrs. Lowry's class.

Economics course appreciated

Home economics helped students learn to cook and sew. Both girls and boys participated in the course instructed by Mrs. Rena Mahurin.

They ran the gamut cooking everything from main courses to desserts and sewed their own designs.

Wendy Rainey, Trudy McGlone and Julie Harris prepared Mexican tostadas.

Mrs. Rena Mahurin, Jan Chapin, Foojan Zainahvazi, Wendy Stobs, Vera Travis, Jennifer Denoe exhibited the finished tostadas and their ingredients.

Lower School works, plays

We cannot tell the precise moment when friendship is formed. As in filling a vessel drop by drop, there is at last a drop which makes it run over; so in a series of kindnesses there is at last one which makes the heart run over.

Lower School enjoys activities

Every year Judson has a Halloween Parade for Lower School, which involves eerie music, and the students parade around to show their originality in designing the costumes. Each year several winners for the best costumes are chosen.

Anyone who rode or was interested in horses was welcome to join the JETS (Judson Equestrian Team). Their activities included participation in many horse shows and even banquets organized by officers for the members.

It was a familiar sight to see members selling dough pretzels at juice break to raise extra funds for their activities.

Girls learn sport of rodeo

Girls' rodeo team learned the arts of goat tying, pole bending, barrel racing, ribbon and calf roping. They performed along with the boys' team for the Japanese visitors and put on demonstrations for students.

Patti Barnhouse, Cherrie Ralls, Diane Dickson, Marli Hunter, Amy Folmer, Sue Reiman, Veronica Martin, Ruth Fronk, Tammy McCutchin, Laura Hardy, Lee Ann Wilson, and Debbie Young.

Diane Dickson demonstrated goat tying.

Laura Hardy barrel raced on her horse "Cricket".

'76 Rodeo Queen is crowned

Selection of Judson's Rodeo Queen was difficult for the professional judges. Girls on the rodeo team were interviewed and judged on personality, horsemanship, appearance, poise, and knowledge of horses.

Along with barrel racing and pole bending, girls performed the Miss Rodeo of America pattern on horseback.

Bottom: Linda Phillips, Cindy Franzi, Veronica Martin, Marli Hunter, Patty Barnhouse, Cherrie Ralls Second: Tammy Wick, Laura Hardy, Debbie Young, Lee Ann Wilson, Debbie Croysdill Third: Debbie Del Bosco, Janell Rogers, Jill Nielsen, Tammy Petrick, Tere Erhard.

Debbie Young and Lee Ann Wilson presented Ruth Fronk roses from the girls' rodeo team.

Veronica Martin, Marli Hunter, Patty Barnhouse were happy winners.

Riders enter Parada del Sol

Parada del Sol, Parade of the Sun, is an annual rodeo event sponsored by the Scottsdale Jaycees. Both English and Western riders from Judson participated in the parade.

Color guard preceded the rest of the riders from Judson.

A crowd of over 200,000 people turned out to observe the annual event.

Work started the day before the parade. Riders bathed and groomed their horses, cleaned tack, and prepared themselves for their long march.

Their parade day started at 5:30 a.m.

Western riders were proud to be a part of the parade.

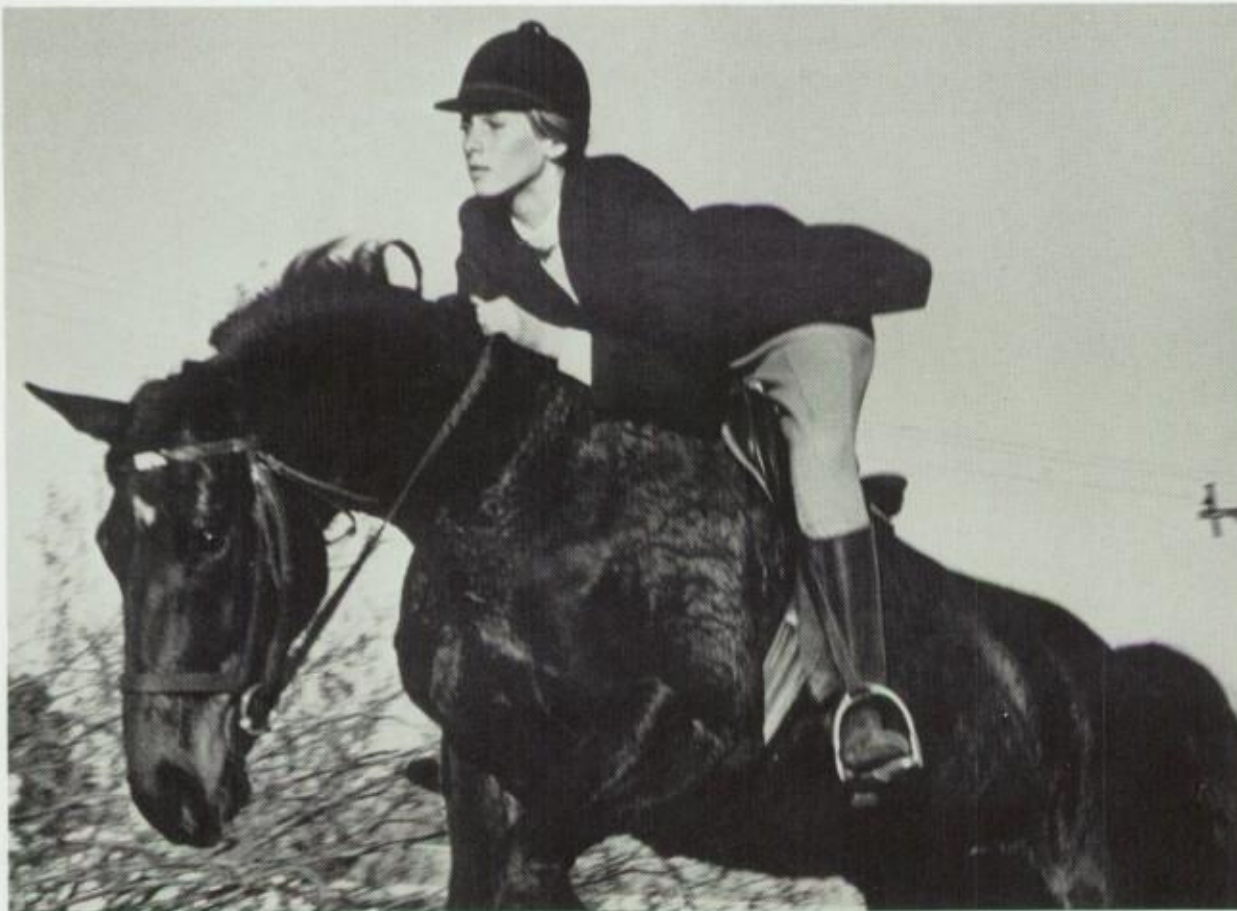

English equestrians dressed in their traditional riding habits.

Students taught techniques of English riding

Upper school riders: Mary Rowland, Nancy Nichols, Laurie Foreman, Liza Day, Gabriel Garza, Denise Maxwell, Lisa Pope, Foojan Zainahvazi, Carol Pearlstein, Debbie Peterson, Julie Tambourine, Jill Crawford.

Linda Lavino practiced her equitation over fences. English riders, instructed by Miss Denise Maxwell, learned hunt seat equitation both on the flat and over fences.

Lower school riders; Kaori Watanabe, Peter Elder, Duane Fronk, Sue Delzell, Laura Wescott, Claudia Cahan, Jennifer Brooks, Robin Barrett.

Jennifer Brooks jumped her horse "High Jinx."

Horse, rider build mutual trust

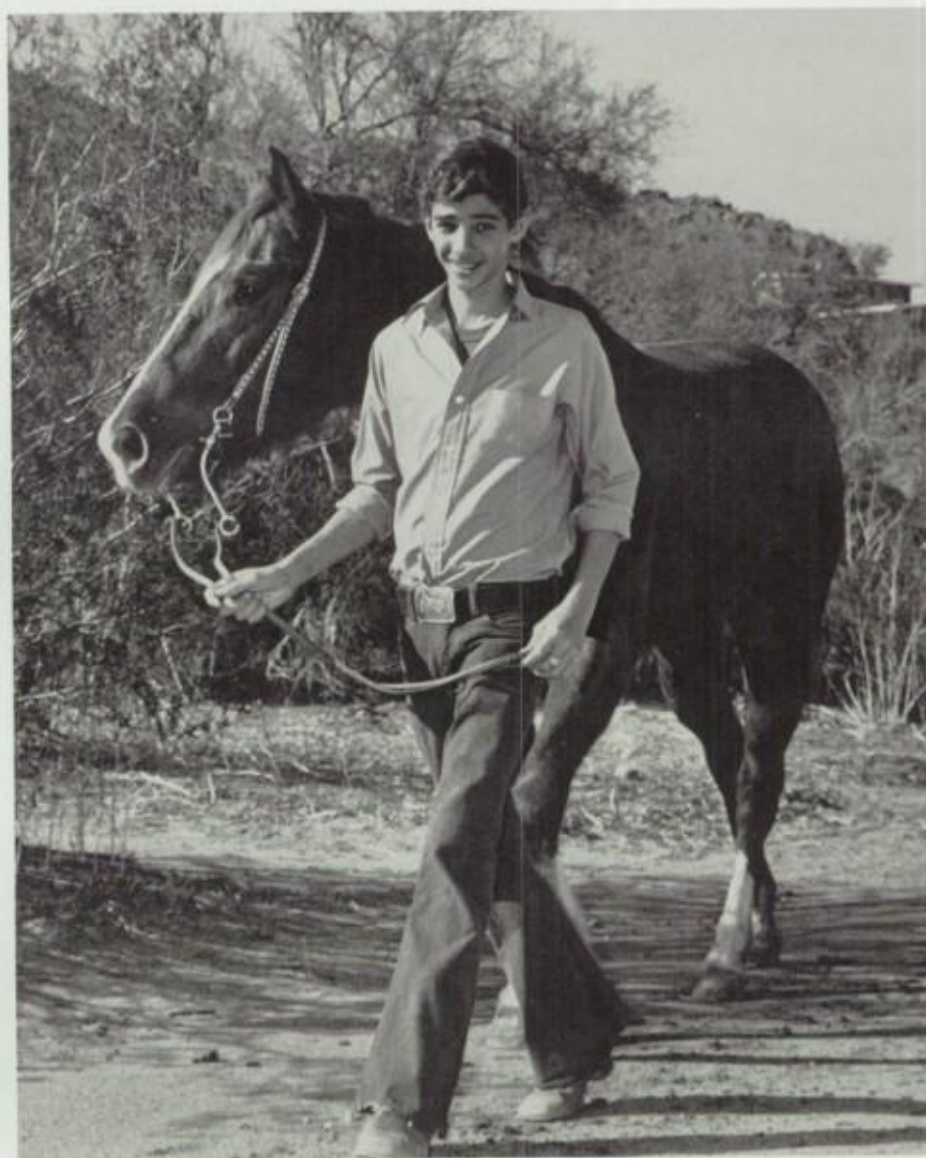

Working with and riding horses had its rewards. Some riders became very attached to their horses, even those who didn't have their own. Horse and rider worked together as a team both in and out of riding class.

Dale Rosenthahl, Karen Poussard, and Liz Cumings worked together to groom and saddle "Juana".

Jim Mathys on "507" was ready for his turn to rope.

Rob Auerbach walked "Shorty" out after riding class.

We as individuals

came together

From those few came a staff . . .

a team

To labor

and to learn

With that extra time

which so many spent

We became friends,

thus our theme

To create, while funneling

toward the final product

Everyone's yearbook

Russell Meathers supported this year's staff with pictures and helped through the hustle and bustle of meeting deadlines. With untiring patience he was always ready with camera in hand, and his professionalism was greatly appreciated by all.

Our thanks also to Jime Duke who provided class pictures and was responsible for the beautiful color section of the yearbook.

Be True to Yourself

Everyone is loved by someone, and everyone is, or should be, respected by many. But you are only loved for being what you are best, yourself. If you are trying to please someone by acting like them, or acting unnaturally, then that person is worthless. No matter who you are trying to please, if they can't accept you as you are naturally, then that person isn't worth your trouble of changing yourself.

You should have enough pride in yourself, without being a snob, to be hurt for not being like or respected as you are. What are you worth if you have to change yourself to be liked by a disrespectful person? Not much. Sure, if you have bad habits that people around you disagree with, then break yourself of them, for politeness sake. But no one's personality can be so bad as to need a change just so you will be liked. Even if someone disrespects you, then they aren't worth your trouble. Are they?

Why can't people just be themselves, as God intended them to be? ? ? And aren't you worth more to yourself to even care if someone is so low as to not even respect you for being yourself?

And having pride in yourself is said in the sense of self confidence, not as a signal to go on an ego trip.

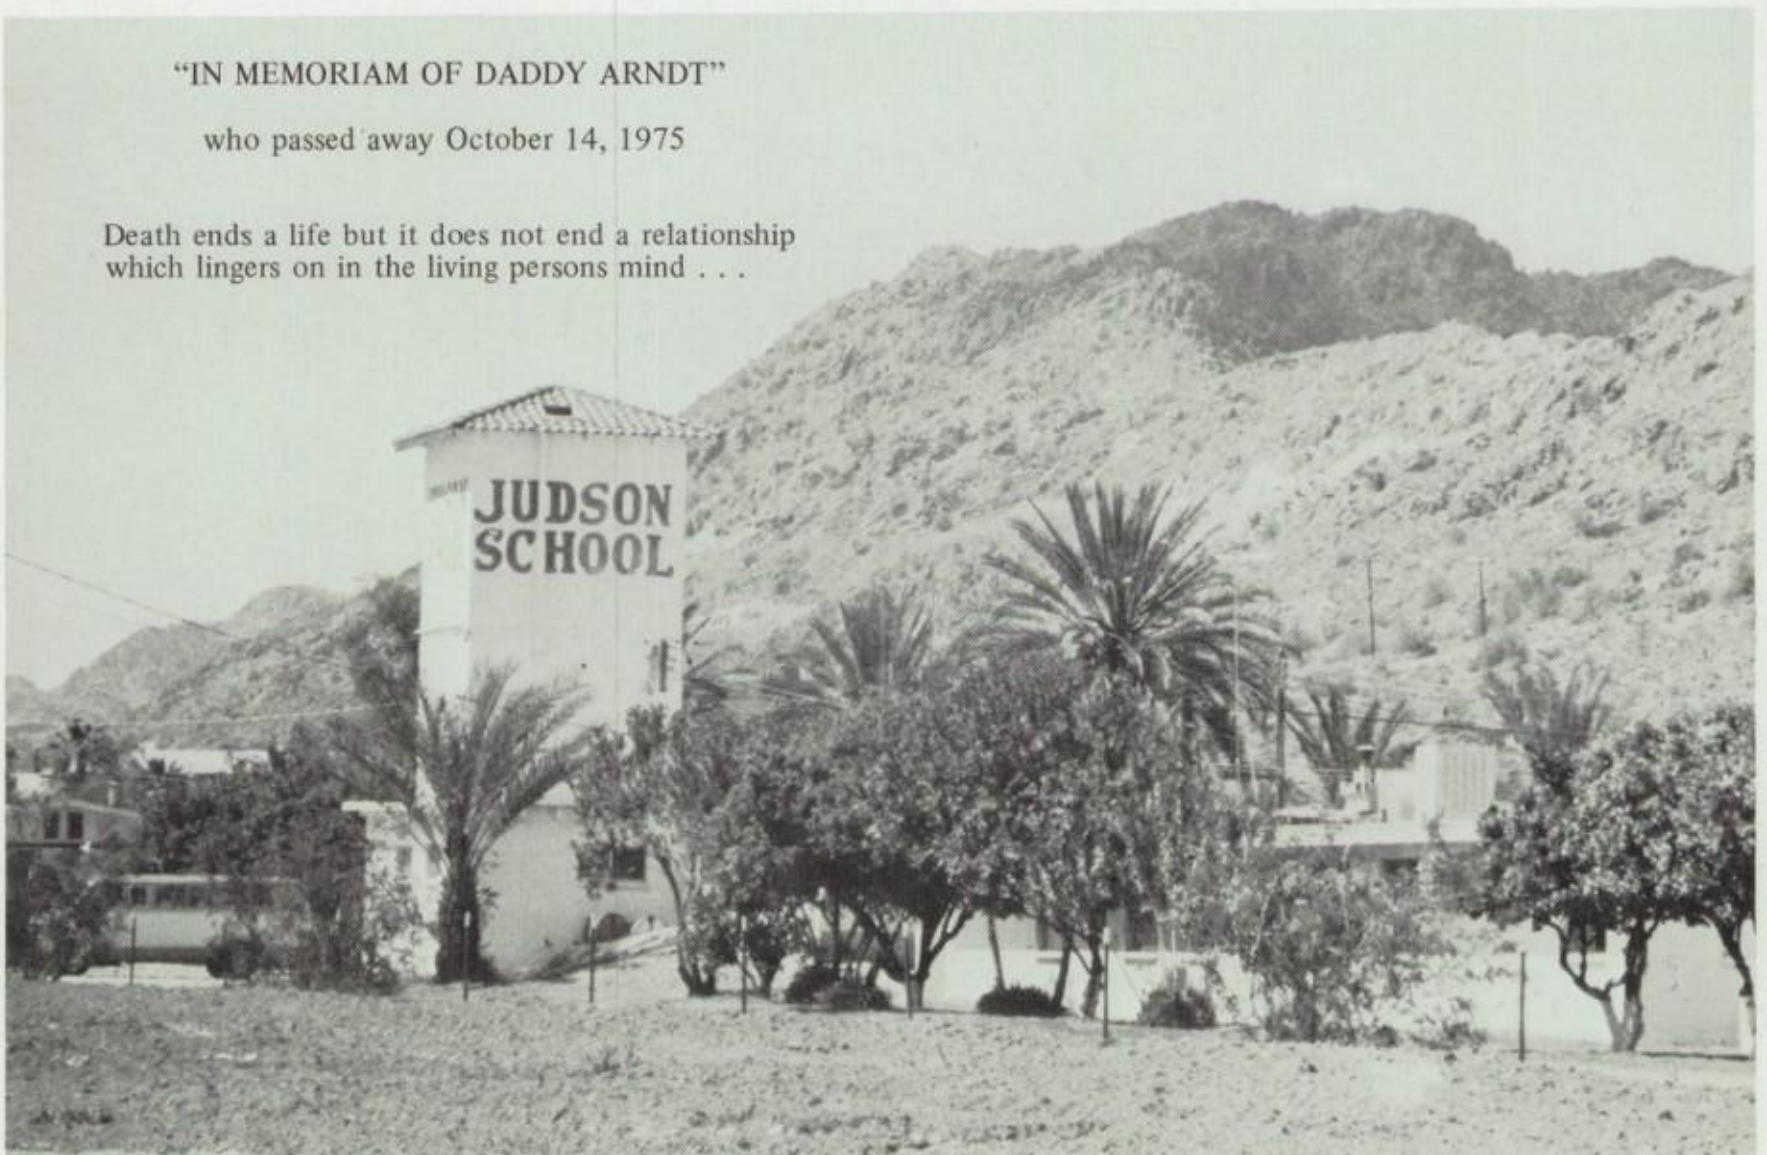

This is a personal opinion and a personal philosophy. Take it or leave it, as you please, but please respect it as it is, for it is I, and I respect you, as you are only you.
